About IWA-14-1

The Unafor Core has been tested towards IWA 14-1:2013 - the most current and comprehensive impact test standard against which Vehicle Security Barriers (VSBs) may be tested.

It identifies the size of vehicle, the test mass, the vehicle speed, the angle and the performance. These measurements are used to determine what solution is most suitable for the location and risk.

HOW IT WORKS

Bespoke Crowd and Storefront Protection based on a Strong Core

The Core

The heart of our Unafor solutions is the Core - a unique, galvanised steel foundation designed to be easily installed with only 25 cm excavation in standard environments, and without the need for strengthening rebar.

We've designed the Core so up to 10 cm of paving can be placed above the foundation. The sockets can be supplied with cover plates so that, if the posts are removed, the foundation is imperceptible.

The foundation is permanent, but the posts and street furniture are removable. Posts are inserted into the sockets which are locked in place to ensure a firm and stable fit. Then bollards or furniture is mounted on top for a customised look.

Removable Furniture

Once the Core is installed, the system can be completed with custom-designed bollards, planters, or benches to fit the look and the proportions of the local site.

All related street furniture is easily removable, making the Unafor solutions flexible and highly adaptable to circumstances and surroundings.
